Thermal (heat) treatments: Chemical-free option that uses heat to kill bed bugs. Bed bugs typically die at around 120 degrees F.

Chemical treatments: Involve one or more chemical-based sprays of the infested area.

The best option will depend on personal preference, building type, and the severity of the problem.

Companies that were removed from initial list:

Gem State – No longer offers bed bug service

Best Way Pest Control – Phone number out of service
