Four new COVID-19 Cases Identified in Southeast Idaho

Southeastern Idaho Public Health has four new confirmed cases of COVID-19 (2 in Bannock County and 2 in Bingham County) in southeast Idaho. This brings the total to 191 confirmed cases in southeastern Idaho. One hundred sixteen of the total 191 confirmed cases have recovered from COVID-19.

- Patient is a male, under the age of 18, from Bannock County. Patient is recovering at home. Case is considered community transmission.
- Patient is a male in his 50s from Bannock County. Patient is recovering at home. Patient had contact to a confirmed case.
- Patient is a male in his 30s from Bingham County. Patient is recovering at home. Patient had contact to a confirmed case.
- Patient is a female in her 80s from Bingham County. Patient is recovering at home. Case is considered community transmission.

Community transmission is defined as illness within a community that lacks connection to travel or other confirmed cases.

Home recovering means that the patient is currently at home recovering; it does not imply that their symptoms are mild. These individuals, at the time they receive their test results, are not ill enough to be admitted to the hospital. Every case is different and severity of symptoms has varied. In addition, symptoms can change and become severe rapidly.

SIPH will continue to monitor the situation closely and is working with the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare, city and county leaders, schools, emergency management, healthcare providers, and our community at large to help prevent the spread of this virus.

Prevention methods include:

- Follow Governor Little's Statewide Stay-Healthy Idaho Order at rebound.idaho.gov.
